FRANK PORTER GRAHAM, President of the University

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

In Chapel Hill among a friendly folk, this old University stands on a hill set in the midst of beautiful forests under skies that give their color and their charm to the life of youth gathered here. Traditions grow here with the ivy on the historic buildings and the moss on the ancient oaks. Friendships form here for the human pilgrimage. There is music in the air of the place. To the artist's touch flowers grow beautifully from the soil and plays come simply from the life of the people. Above the traffic of the hour church spires reach toward the life of the spirit. Into this life, with its ideals, failures, and high courage, comes youth with his body and his mind, his hopes and his dreams. Scholars muster here the intellectual and spiritual resources of the race for the development of the whole personality of the poorest boy and would make the University of North Carolina a stronghold of liberal learning with outposts of research along all the frontiers of the world. Great teachers on this hill kindle the fires that burn for him and light up the heavens of the commonwealth with the hopes of light and liberty for all mankind.

PRESIDENT'S INAUGURATION

The inauguration of Frank Porter Graham as the eleventh president of the University of North Carolina was conducted in Kenan Memorial Stadium the morning of November 11, 1931, before an audience of over five thousand people.

The Honorable W. J. Adams, Associate Justice, in the absence of Chief Justice W. P. Stacy, administered the oath of office and Governor Gardner delivered to the newly inducted president the seal and charter of the University.

The most impressive part of the ceremony was the long procession composed of educators from all over the country, faculty, students, general alumni, and a special section composed of the class of 1909, Graham's own class.

KENAN STADIUM—1931

Introduction to the University

THE OLD WELL

You are joining a fellowship, over fifteen thousand strong, of University students and alumni. To this family belongs a great wealth. A University in the full sense of that word, one of only thirty in the American Association of Universities, offers you its libraries and laboratories, its scholarly teachers, its beautiful campus, and its one hundred and thirty-nine years of tradition. This great tradition includes men who have been creative citizens of the spirit—adding to the world's imperishable wealth of Truth, Goodness, and Beauty. All this built and maintained by the loyalty and vision of generations is yours now for your use and your growth.

This beginning of your work and life here is one of your birthdays. You may break away, on this birthday, from all the past that has been less than your best. You are invited to growth in health and strength in gymnasium, on playing fields, and in the woods. The University offers you appreciation of literature and music, understanding of science and philosophy, acquaintance with history and the varied world of today. It calls you to free association with fellows as various in interest and ability as the world from which they come. It summons you to active part in the government of a campus where honor and self-government are standards by which success or failure are measured. It includes you in thought and discussion where the right to think is assumed, and the only constraint of the mind is that of truth.

You are the heirs of all its ages of accumulating honor and prestige. In your hands rests the responsibility of adding to this treasure so nobly bestowed upon it. Each year some added hundreds are assigned this duty as members of the student body for four years and as potential alumni. The University of North Carolina is proud of its tradition, builded upon these legions of boys who have left its hallowed halls to achieve a certain measure of fame, each in his particular niche of society. As new men you today assume the trust.

Dean Bradshaw Says a Word to the New Men

As you celebrate this your birthday into the family of Carolina men, over fifteen thousand strong, I should like to pass on to you a message with which my own class was greeted twenty years ago. This message lies close to the heart of this University and has been for many generations a central emphasis in the spirit of this campus. The message is this: The highest form of education is self-education; the highest form of government is self-government. The state of North Carolina and generous patrons of learning have stored here during 137 years the rich resources of our cultural heritage. To guide and advise you there are deans, counselors, handbooks, orientation programs, committees, and many agencies of student welfare. But not one step forward can you be carried by any of these against your will. Not far can you be shoved if you are passive. After all it is your life and your education. After all it is up to you! This is the great first fact that determines all relationships between you and your University.

Universities are supposed to train for leadership. A leader in simplest terms is one who goes forward first.

PATTERSON-MOREHEAD BELL TOWER

Leadership is not something which is bestowed on you. It is something which you exercise. Our ancestors called their leaders kings. The word king comes from an old word which meant "can." The king was the one who "could" where others could not.

The University invites you to freedom rather than to obedience, to thought rather than belief, to leadership rather than followship. All of her resources are for you so that your freedom may be wise, your thought true, and your movement forward; but in the last analysis the responsibility is yours to be on the job of your education.

Do not conceive your career as beginning in some great enterprise at some distant place in the future. It is already underway. To be "on the job" promptly and effectively in all the little duties and obligations that make up the daily round of college life and work is your privilege and the real adventure of character and leadership.

Tips to New Men

WHAT TO BRING—Be sure that your luggage includes bed linen, a pillow, blankets, towels, and a laundry bag. Since your trunk may arrive a day or two after you reach the Hill, it is advisable to pack bed linen for two days in your suit case. Dormitory rooms are furnished with straight backed chairs, desks to accommodate the number of men in each room, beds, and a chiffonier. It is desirable to bring pennants, pictures, rugs, and other articles which may serve to brighten your room. Be sure to bring athletic equipment such as a baseball glove, tennis racquet and necessary athletic togs for both field and gym. A Webster's Collegiate Dictionary should also be brought along, for it is required in freshman English courses.

TRIP TO THE HILL—Arrange your transportation so as to reach Chapel Hill by eight o'clock on the morning of September 20th. If you are coming by automobile you may reach the Hill easily over any one of several new paved highways that connect it with nearby cities. If you are coming from distant points by train, it is advisable to arrive via Durham and then come on to the Hill by bus. Ticket agents may attempt to route you to "Chapel Hill," which is on a branch line several miles from the village and quite inconvenient. Busses run frequently between Durham and Chapel Hill from the Bus Depot near the Union Station in Durham. Be sure to give your baggage check to transfer men who will be waiting when you get off the train. Avoid dealing with any small or apparently unreliable transfer company and be sure to get the name and address of the transfer man. The Southern, Norfolk & Western, Durham & Southern and several other prominent roads run into Durham.

AT THE HILL—Upon arrival in Chapel Hill go at once to the office of the Buildings Department (located at the foot of the big smokestack) and obtain the key to your dormitory room. A small deposit is required to cover the loss or theft of your key. Inquire at the "Y" or from upperclassmen who will be on the campus the location of your dormitory and settle in your room as soon as possible. Get acquainted with all of your classmates in your dormitory. The first few days before the upper classmen arrive is a good time for this. For your own convenience it is a good idea to have your physical examination as soon after your arrival as possible.

WHERE TO EAT—During the first few days it is both economical and worthwhile to visit several of the boarding houses and cafeterias in the village to decide where you wish to board permanently. Most of the cafeterias have meal ticket plans or daily boarding plans that save the student money on his board bill. Swain Hall, University profit-sharing dining room, accommodates regularly one-fourth of the student body; board costs $20.00 each month at Swain Hall. Private boarding houses serve meals which may be obtained for $25 to $30 a month. Student managers will be glad to enroll you at these establishments.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION WEEK—It is a customary procedure of the University administration to conduct an orientation week program several days before the regular opening of school to acquaint the new men with the campus, faculty, traditions and scholastic program of the University. At nine o'clock Tuesday morning, September 20, all of the new men gather in Memorial Hall and are divided into small groups, each of which has a faculty advisor and an upperclassman leader. These groups will follow a definite schedule, as outlined on printed cards, including physical examination, intelligence test, English placement test, library tour, and special lectures on University traditions and the honor system. Individual conferences with faculty advisors will be arranged at this time. Registration for courses will take place Wednesday.

MISCELLANEOUS TIPS AND INFORMATION—

1. Attend every event on your Orientation Program Card.
2. Make a habit of going to church at least once every Sunday.
3. Write home often—the "home folks" always want to know how you are getting on.
4. Be sure to prepare each day's lessons and avoid having to "cram" for the final examinations.
5. During rushing season never go to a fraternity house uninvited.
6. Don't be discouraged if you are not asked to join a fraternity—more than half of the student body is made up of non-fraternity men.
7. Don't decide upon the fraternity you want to join until after you have visited all those to whose houses you have been invited. The friends you make during rushing season are very valuable ones.
8. In no case pledge yourself to a fraternity before Pledge Day.
9. Make acquaintance with all of your professors and don't be afraid to ask them about the lesson which might have troubled you.
10. Take part in some form of athletics.
11. Attend your classes regularly, being absent only when previously excused. Professors are often prejudiced toward students who are continually absent, and will also take offense toward those who are always tardy.
12. Budget yourself so that you will spend money only for those things which are necessary. By leaving out all luxuries, a freshman is able to keep his expenses for a year as low as $450.
13. When sick, don't fail to go to the University Infirmary. You have paid the fee at registration, and the service awaits you without further charges. "Sick excuses" for missing classes cannot be secured if you remain in your room.
14. Use the Library as often as you can. It is a good plan to spend your leisure hours there.
15. Try to get as many of your books second-hand as you can. In this way you can save practically half.
16. Make yourself perfectly at home in the "Y," and consider the secretaries as your most valuable friends and advisers. No matter what sort of problem is confronting you, don't be hesitant to ask their help and advice.
17. Take an interest in at least two extra curricula activities.
18. Freshmen are not hazed at Carolina.
19. Mail is delivered to the dormitories twice daily; the occupants of each room have a separate box.
20. Final examinations each quarter are compulsory.
21. There are four sets of class colors. Each outgoing senior class hands over its colors to the incoming freshman class. The class of '32 has given its Purple and Gold to the class of '36.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Honor System is Carolina's Most Prized Tradition

Student government at the university has no written constitution. Each succeeding Student Council, to the best of its ability, interprets student government to meet the needs and interests of the changing student body.

HAYWOOD WEEKS
Pres., Student Body

The two systems which are the basis of the governmental structure and which guide all actions of the Student Council are the Honor System and the Campus Code.

The honor system replaces espionage and monitoring by confidence in student honor, and since there is no espionage, no police system, the theory is that students themselves will act spontaneously upon breaches of honor and will submit such offences to their own tribunal—the Student Council.

Breaches of honor are in a far different category from breaches of conduct and should be judged differently. To confuse the Honor System is to destroy it. It deals with offences of lying, cheating, and stealing—and these alone.

The Honor System is a principle and as such can never be said to have proved a failure. It is an obvious fact, however, that there will always be some students who fail to live up to the system and who abuse the privileges granted to them. Nowhere does individual responsibility play so large a part. Those who are unable to live up to the dictates of the Honor System must sooner or later fall by the wayside, for it is a guiding principle of life in the University and after graduation.

The Campus Code replaces fixed rules of conduct and by-laws by the requirement of a standard of gentlemanly conduct. It lists no particular offences but covers all save those against honor. The student must interpret the code for himself. Responsibility, not honor, is involved.

Here individual responsibility, as in the Honor System is an integral factor; a student is bound on his responsibility as a gentleman not only to conduct himself as such at all times, but further to see to it, insofar as appropriate, that his fellow students do likewise.

The main purpose of the Student Council is to investigate and try all reported violations of the Honor System and the Campus Code, and to take whatever action it may see fit to remedy and to prevent such violations. Its hearings are investigations rather than prosecutions; its decrees are intended to be corrective rather than punitive measures.

The Student Council is composed of ten members: one elected from each of the three upper classes, one from each of the three professional schools—Law, Medicine, and Pharmacy,—one representative from the preceding council, one from the school of engineering, and the president and vice-president of the student body.

BILL MCKEE
President of Y. M. C. A.

WELCOME

To the members of the class of 1936 the University of North Carolina Young Men's Christian Association offers a hearty and sincere welcome, with the hope that the years spent here will mean much in an experience of living.

The Y. M. C. A. is one of the major activities at Carolina. It is the largest, and second only to the literary societies in being the oldest, organization on the campus. It is voluntary. You are not forced to join. It is a Christian association seeking to influence men to live more Christ-like lives, advocating the truest and highest values of life, and developing a finer and religious spirit.

But it is not only religious. It is a group interested in vital problems and attempting to solve them. It renders personal and welfare service to many students, including personal guidance and self-help assistance. It is a student organization, operated by students, and we invite you to take an active part in its work, and join in its fellowship.

But whether you have time to do so or not, we at least hope that you will feel free to use and call on the individuals of the cabinets and the employed staff for any assistance they may render. We are here ready to serve you; do not hesitate to take advantage of the opportunity.

Let us all strive during the coming year to give our best in our class work and in outside activities to the up-building of character, may we all work together for the advancement not only of ourselves, but of the student body and the University.

Sincerely,

BILL MCKEE,
President Y. M. C. A.

MEANING AND PURPOSE

The Young Men's Christian Association is the largest student organization in the world. It was first organized in the United States at the Universities of Michigan and Virginia. The University of North Carolina Association was established in 1860. Today there are in the United States some 700 schools having Y. M. C. A.'s on the campus with a total membership of more than 79,000 students.

Sir George Williams of London, England, organized the first Young Men's Christian Association in 1844, because he felt the need of daily prayer and spiritual uplift. Today the organization encircles the globe, daily bringing together in forty-eight countries young men and boys into a brotherhood which keeps alive the spirit of Christ. North America has 2,085 Y. M. C. A.'s including all types, with a total membership of 925,000.

The purpose of the Y. M. C. A. is

- (1) To lead young men to faith in God through Jesus Christ.
- (2) To lead them into membership and service in the Christian church.
- (3) To promote their growth in Christian faith and character, especially through the study of the Bible and daily prayer.
- (4) To influence them to develop themselves in united effort with all Christians to making the will of God effective in society and to extend the Kingdom of God throughout the world.

The Carolina "Y" has as its prime purpose a life of service in the life of the University, and aims through its membership to eventually reach the entire student body and the community in such a manner as to cause all with whom it comes in contact to seek those ideals which deny self and provide fearless Christian leadership. It also endeavors to provide means whereby students may have some definite agency for the crystallizing of their religious and ethical beliefs.

ORGANIZATION

THE BUILDING

The Y. M. C. A. building, erected out of funds raised by students and faculty, is located in the heart of the campus, and though small, it has stood over twenty-five years as a central meeting place for the student body. It provides office headquarters for the Y. M. C. A., including the Self-Help Bureau office, room for the University Book Exchange and the Bull's Head Book Shop, a public reading room, a lounge, and conference rooms for the cabinets and other campus organizations and committees.

The campus has greatly outgrown the Y. M. C. A. building today, and fortunately the new Graham Memorial Union was opened last fall, providing almost unlimited facilities for the numerous campus activities. However, the "Y" building is still used to capacity.

MEMBERSHIP

Members of the Y. M. C. A., traditionally, are divided into two classes, Active and Associate. The Active membership in the local unit is defined as those affiliated with an evangelical church or who subscribe to the whole statement of purpose of the Association, and who participate in the work of the organization to the extent of obtaining a membership card or of attending at least six regular meetings during the academic year. Active members are eligible to all privileges of the Association including the holding of offices and voting in elections. Associate members are those who are non-church members and those who ascribe to the Association purpose only in part. This group is entitled to all privileges of membership except office-holding.

THE CABINETS

The direct authority and leadership of the student Y. M. C. A. lies in its officers, elected by the membership, committeemen, and cabinets. The class-cabinet system is used at Carolina so that a larger number of students may take part in the program and work of the association. Membership in these cabinets is not limited.

The Junior-Senior Cabinet leads and controls the policy of the Y. M. C. A. program. It is composed only of juniors and seniors and its officers are the student officers of the association.

The Sophomore Cabinet operates as a sub-cabinet to take the program of the Y. M. C. A. to the members of the sophomore class, and to give opportunity for active leadership and training to sophomores who desire it. It elects its own officers.

The Freshman Friendship Council is organized on the first Friday evening of the school year at a special banquet meeting. All freshmen who have been members of a Hi-Y Club or members of a Prep school Y. M. C. A., or are interested in the work of the Y. M. C. A. are eligible to attend this first meeting and to become regular members of the council. The Freshman Friendship Council functions among the members of the freshman class in the same way the Sophomore Cabinet serves the second-year men. This group also elects its own officers. All faithful members of the Council who return to the University the second year automatically become members of the Sophomore Cabinet, if they so desire.

The Board of Directors is a small group of local residents elected by the Active Membership of the Y. M. C. A. for a term of two years. The terms of four members of this year's Board runs out in May, 1933, at which time four more will be elected, while the remaining three carry over for another year. This group meets at least four times a year and stands as an advisory body to student officers, committeemen, and employed staff, assumes final authority and responsibility of the financial welfare and needs of the Association, and bears the responsibility for the permanent conduct of the Association program.

THE EMPLOYED STAFF

H. F. Comer.....	General Secretary
Edwin S. Lanier.....	Self-Help Secretary
Miss Virginia Ballengee.....	Office Secretary

HARRY F. COMER
General Secretary

These three secretaries are the only paid officers in the organization, and except for the self-help Secretary, who is on part time service, devote their whole time to the work of the "Y." They are employed by the Board of Directors, with the concurrence of the Active Membership.

One of the main functions of the General Secretary is to give continuity to the program carried on by the Association. Being connected with the work for years, as Mr. Comer has for the last twelve, he keeps the work of the organization going, and can benefit by the experience of previous years. The Secretary acts as a coach, giving the officers and cabinet members the advice and counsel in accomplishing their purposes which the students' lack of training and experience requires. And yet he is different from the athletic coach in that he plays the game with the students, rather than look on. The discovering and developing of men is another of his responsibilities, with a view to always looking to the best interests of the campus. The secretary is also a contact man with the University, the community, and the general Y. M. C. A. movement.

The purpose of employing a self-help secretary is to provide an effective agency for placing as many students as possible in profitable employment. He also is interested in the moral and spiritual well-being of the students and is ready to help with any problems you may have.

EDWIN S. LANIER
Self-Help Secretary

THE PROGRAM

The University Y. M. C. A. is an organization of and for students, and with its major control in the hands of students. The present form of program is one which enables the Association to best meet the needs of the campus. A program set up with the entire student body in mind, must of necessity be broad and with sufficient variety to interest many types of students. It is hardly expected therefore that the entire program will appeal directly to any one student.

Program organization brings into active participation a rather large number of students, broken into various committees and small groups devoting themselves to specific tasks under the major divisions of the program. Each student is invited to study the divisions of the "Y" program and select the one in which he would particularly like to serve, and let his choice be made known either to the officers or the chairman of the special committee.

DIVISIONS OF WORK

The following outline of possible program activity show the wide range open for individual students who take active part in Y. M. C. A. work:

Religious and Devotional

University sermons, vespers, morning watch groups, devotionals in cabinets, special chapel exercises, services on special days, as Thanksgiving and Easter, the organization and conducting of Bible study groups in dormitories and fraternities.

Campus and Community Service

FINANCES

The University Y. M. C. A. has an annual budget of approximately $10,000. Of this amount 54% comes as a cash appropriation from the University Administration. The remainder is raised by the student cabinets and the Board of Directors, through means of free-will contributions from students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the Association.

Every student in the University is given an opportunity to make a contribution to the welfare and religious work of the "Y" on the campus, during the process of his fall quarter registration. The gift is, of course, purely voluntary, and it is hoped that even the student who may feel he does not personally need the services of the "Y" will contribute in consideration of the services rendered to the many who do need it, and of the program promoted on the campus by the "Y." Your pledge made during registration is collected by the University treasurer along with other fees. Student contributions range from two to ten dollars. All who contribute as much as $2.00 will be given a membership card, which is valuable for identification and for use in traveling through cities, as it entitles one to visitor's privileges in any city Y. CHURCHES

CHAPEL HILL BAPTIST CHURCH

EUGENE OLIVE, Pastor

To New Students

The Chapel Hill Baptist Church looks forward with eagerness to the return of each college year. With the coming of hundreds of new students to the University the people of the church have the privilege of forming an ever-increasing number of warm friendships. The pastor, the members of the local congregation, and the Baptists of North Carolina are seeking to provide a wholesome and happy church life for the students. It is their desire to help in every possible way to make their stay in Chapel Hill contribute to their highest good spiritually, as well as intellectually and physically.

Baptist students are invited to bring with them their church letters and transfer their membership to the local congregation at the very beginning. Students who do this are happier in their religious life and less likely to lose their bearings. We believe that it is a great tragedy for anybody to grow physically and intellectually and become a spiritual dwarf or corpse. It is to provide opportunity for students to become what they should be spiritually that the program of the Chapel Hill Baptist Church is planned.

Baptist Student Activities

Every student who cares to, will find a place in some of the activities of the church. Sunday School classes and B.Y.P.U.'s are adapted to their needs. Students are used as church ushers, members of the church choir and in the Sunday School orchestra. The Baptist Student Union, whose officers are elected by the students themselves, includes all the student religious organizations of the church. The pastor is glad to have students call upon him at any time for whatever service he may render. During the morning hours he may be found in his study at the church. At other times he will be glad to see students by appointment. The church telephone number is 4381. Pastor's residence, 5551.

Assistant's office at Parish House. Telephone 6111.

Office Hours: Daily 9 A. M.—12 Noon.

All Freshmen and new students are cordially welcomed to the Chapel of the Cross. Students are asked to make themselves known to Mr. Lawrence or Mr. Wright as soon as possible after their arrival in Chapel Hill.

Our policy is to have as little organization as possible. We want the Church to be a spiritual home, and not merely a college club.

The Parish House is always open to students. On the ground floor is a good reading room, provided with books and magazines; upstairs there are a number of small rooms which offer excellent opportunities for study. Mr. Wright lives in the Parish House and is always glad to see and talk to students.

Every Sunday afternoon from 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock tea is served in the Parish House. These teas afford an opportunity for students to meet each other, and also to meet many of the people of Chapel Hill.

FRESHMAN NIGHT

On Friday evening of the first week of the school year each Church observes Freshman Night. These are informal get-acquainted gatherings in honor of the men who have just arrived on the campus.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Due to the illness of the regular pastor, Dr. W. D. Moss, who has served this church for so many years, there will be no regular pastor for the church. Ministers from the neighboring territory will be invited in for the Sunday morning service.

All students are invited to attend the Sunday School which begins at 9:45 A. M. each Sunday. There are special classes for students. Dr. W. J. McKee will be in charge of one of these groups. The superintendent of the Sunday School is Mr. Lacy Ranson.

THE UNITED CHURCH

Cameron Avenue. One Block West of the Carolina Inn.

C. R. DIERLAMM, Pastor

(The Chapel Hill Christian Church merged with the Congregationalists in 1929. It is now "The United Church of Chapel Hill.")

Our Church begins with the premise that its children and young people are an integral part of the Church of today rather than that they are the church of tomorrow. As a consequence, it aims to secure the loyalties early in life.

Our Church continues a program with the adults. A cordial invitation is extended to the students of the University to attend Professor Raymond Adams' Bible Class for young men at 9:45 A. M. followed by the regular hour of worship at 11:00 A. M. Membership in this Church gives you a real church home and puts you under no obligation nor in any way conflicts with your church affiliation back home. The Pastor is willing to be of service to you.

THE SUNDAY SERVICES

9:45—Bible Classes

7:00—Wesley Association

11:00—Morning Worship

8:00—Evening Worship

The Methodists of North Carolina have erected here at Chapel Hill a beautiful and well equipped church building for the benefit of the Methodist students who attend the University. We want you to make it your "church-home-away-from-home."

The Wesley Student Association is responsible for all the young people's activities of the church. Luther Taff is president. He and the officers of the association welcome you and will do all they can to make you feel at home. Each term the association offers several Bible Courses at 9:45 each Sunday. At 8:00 on Sunday evenings a most interesting student hour is held. The program varies including music, dramatics, inspirational talks and discussion groups. Frequent week day activities are planned by the association. An "at home" is held at the parsonage each Sunday evening after services.

You are cordially invited to all services of the church and both pastor and members are anxious to become acquainted with you. The pastor is glad to have students call upon him for whatever service he may render. He may be found in his study at the church during the morning hours, and at the parsonage 112 West Franklin at other times.

is allowed to attend all varsity and freshman games played by Carolina teams on the home fields free of charge. A small fee is charged in the regular registration fee to cover membership in the Athletic Association and other athletic privileges. The Athletic Council has control of all matters pertaining to athletics at the University. Its membership is composed of three faculty members appointed by the President of the University; three alumni members elected by the alumni; three student members—the President of the Athletic Association, the President of the Student Body, and a delegate elected from the Monogram Club; the Graduate Manager of Athletics; and the Director of Athletics.

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION—The officers of the Athletic Association are elected by a vote of the student body at the regular spring elections. These officers for 1932-33 are: Harry Hodges, President, and Dave McCahren, Vice-President.

ELECTION OF CAPTAINS—The captain of each athletic team is selected by the monogram men in that particular sport at the end of each season. This year there will be no regular captain in football and boxing. A football captain will be appointed before each game.

ELECTION OF MANAGERS—All freshmen who wish may try out for sub-assistant managerships of any sport. Each man trying out is assigned to work one day each week with the varsity squad and one day with the freshman squad. At the end of the playing season the Director of Athletics, the coach of the varsity sport, varsity manager, and the Graduate Manager shall recommend to the Athletic Council six men to serve as sub-assistant managers during the sophomore year. In like manner two from this group of men shall be recommended for assistant managers during their junior year. In the senior year one of these two shall serve as varsity manager and the other as assistant or freshman manager.

COACH FETZER

With outstanding victories over Navy, Virginia, Duke, Penn State and other aggregations who were among the leading contenders for national college titles last Spring, the Carolina team of 1932 experienced an exceptionally good season. At the southern conference the Tar Heels scored 23 points to place fourth with L. S. U. 38, Duke 27, and Auburn 24. Carolina had previously beaten Duke by a score of 77 1-6 to 48 5-6. In the season's meets, which were climaxed by Carolina's clean sweep of the state title, many records, both state and conference, fell before the onslaught of Coach Fetzer's stars.

With overwhelming victories, many of them old-fashioned "white-washings," over Pennsylvania, N. Y. U., Army, Yale, Harvard, Brown, Duke, Wake Forest and others, Coach Kenfield's netmen again laid claim last Spring to the national college tennis title. In the state meet, both the singles and doubles titles went to Carolina, and though squad members were unable to make the annual trip to the Conference tourney, two men were sent to the semi-finals and one to the finals of the Southern title tourney held in July. Many members of the team are holders of various state and sectional titles. Bryan Grant, captain-elect and number one man on the squad went undefeated during the college season, as did his team mates, Harley Shuford and John Dillard, and was runner-up in the national intercollegiate. Other members of the team annexed various titles in tourneys through the south and east during the summer.

Intramural Athletics

Carolina's athletic slogan "Athletics for All" is best carried out in the extensive program of the Intramural Athletic association, which provides numerous forms of sport sufficient for the participation of every member of the student body. "Bo" Shepard, director, is assisted in this work by Mac Gray who with a corps of officials, selected from the older members of the student body, conduct the yearly program of the department. New forms of the sport are added every year, contributing toward the increasing popularity of the department. Separate fraternity and dormitory leagues compete in each sport and the winners in each division meet at the end of the sporting season to determine the campus champions in each sport.

FRATERNITIES

FRATERNITY COURT

Fraternities at Carolina

Fraternities are groups of college men joined together for companionship. For this reason, the fraternity is essentially a social organization, although there are professional fraternities which choose their members

IRVIN BOYLE
President Interfraternity

solely from a special school of the University, such as the School of Medicine, the School of Law, etc. At Carolina there are twenty-eight national social, one local social, thirteen professional fraternities, and two sororities. A national fraternity is one which has chapters at various schools; a local fraternity consists of a single chapter and is active only in the school or college at which it was organized. The majority of fraternities in Chapel Hill own or rent houses in which the members live and, in some cases, have their meals.

BIDS. Membership in these fraternities is by invitation. Each fraternity extends a bid to those men who are most congenial with its particular group; sociability in general, athletic ability, literary and scholastic attainments, personality, and character are also qualities which the fraternities take into consideration. Recommendations by alumni and fraternal connections in the family are instrumental in the pledging of new members.

RUSHING. The rushing season or period at which fraternities entertain prospective pledges begins one day after the first day of classes. Until this time there is period of silence, during which there shall be no rushing of any kind nor any communication between members of a fraternity and freshmen. This first period of silence includes Freshman Week in addition to the first day of classes. It is important that new men co-operate with fraternity members in respecting the period of silence, since fraternities are responsible for any violation of rushing rules.

From September 24, 1932 to midnight of October 8, 1932—fourteen days—each fraternity will entertain freshmen to whom it is considering extending bids. All rushing-entertainment is restricted to fraternity houses and shall be limited to the hours of two to nine o'clock p. m., except on the last night (October 8) of rushing, when the time shall be extended to midnight.

The second period of silence shall last from midnight of October 8 to 2:00 p. m. of October 10. The purpose of this period of silence is to allow the freshman to consider the merits of the fraternities by which he has been rushed and to determine his preference. No freshmen are permitted to be rushed or communicated with by any fraternity man or his associates during the two periods of silence. No freshman will be permitted under any circumstances to spend time at fraternities outside of the above mentioned hours (two to nine p. m.) during the entire rushing season. And no fraternity man will be allowed to room with a freshman during rushing season or even to visit him at his rooms outside the regular hours.

DATES. Appointments between fraternity men and freshmen may be made only one week in advance. No freshman during the first two days of rushing may make more than two dates with any one fraternity. No freshman shall be permitted to break any first date with a fraternity under penalty of being barred from fraternity membership.

PLEDGING. After the second period of silence, during which time the freshman is supposed to have determined his preference, each names his first, second, third, and more choices if he has them before the Dean of Students, who gives him a bid provided, of course, he shall have received one or more of them. Each freshman is given a bid from the fraternity of his first choice, if he has received one from that fraternity; if he has not he is given a bid from the fraternity of his second choice, and so on. No freshman may be pledged before this day on which bids are given out. Both fraternities and freshmen can be punished for breaking this rule.

INITIATING. Only on the condition that he has passed five courses, making at least two "C's" (85), in two quarters, may a fraternity pledge be initiated. Any pledge not satisfying these scholastic requirements must wait until the following year to be initiated. Only on the condition that it attain a 3.5 (between a "C" and a "D") average in scholarship, may a fraternity be allowed to initiate new members. If, however, any fraternity does not attain such an average in the fall quarter, the whole fraternity will be on probation during the winter quarter to raise its average to the required 3.5. Provided this average is attained the fraternity on probation may initiate in the spring quarter.
